WEEKLY MESSAGE FROM PASTOR FRICKE

The Jesus We Need

Luke's gospel presents the first Easter as a bit of a mystery. The women go to the tomb and find it empty. They report it to the disciples, but to the disciples it doesn't make any sense. Peter and John check it out for themselves. They run to the tomb, look in and see the burial cloths, but no Jesus. Then they leave, still trying to piece it all together.

It's a mystery. The other apostles...the Emmaus disciples...nobody seems to get it. And for one very good reason: They're looking for the wrong kind of Savior. They want a Jesus who can bring them success, who can jump-start the economy, who can feed their egos, wink at their sins, and justify all their self-centered desires and goals.

What about us? Are we looking for a God of our own making, who will give us everything we want? Do we want a Jesus who will wink at our sins? There is only one Jesus...and he will not cater to our sinful flesh. He came to die, to take away our sins. He rose from the grave to give us life. And he teaches us to die to sin.

That's the real Jesus. He is the Jesus we need.
